A friend with no borders

Posted by Enver (Old family friend) On Monday, March 25, 2019

May God have mercy on our friend Josip, and may he shower blessings on his family. I remember the good old days when my father (Hasan) would take us to St. Thomas to visit Josip and the families to watch soccer or hockey night in Canada. It was the time when it did not matter what your background was, it just mattered that you were a respectable and honest friend. It didn't matter what faith you were, it just mattered that you shared the same respect, and honor. Love and friendship have no borders.
